DESIGN STUDIO EVENTS

Most shops open 11am-6pm, Tuesday-Sunday (times may vary) Discover new work and take part in events led by Oxo Tower Wharf's community of leading designers.

STUDIOS INCLUDE:

BRAMWELL BROWN

Preview: Weds 21 Sept
Bramwell Brown launch a 'London' Weather Clock for LDF. The new design, created by award-winning illustrator Josh Patterson, is a reinvention of the traditional barometer, translating this into a 'Mechanimated' weather forecast.

DESIGNED IN COLOUR: BRITISH COLOUR STANDARD

Date/Time TBC
Inspired by the 'British Colour Standard' (a 1930s colour matching system) Designed in Colour have created a new range of British-made mugs, launching at LDF 2016 as part of Designersblock. Join them for a series of talks and events including colour demonstrations and a referendum for new British Colour Standard colours.

INNERMOST TEN

20-24 Sept
Preview: Weds 21 Sept 7-11pm (invitation only)
Innermost celebrate 10 years at Oxo Tower Wharf by hosting 10 events throughout LDF. Their new showroom is open to view their 2016 collection. Bid in a silent auction for ten of their greatest design (proceeds to Macmillan), catch their flash mob cocktails, plus enter to win a limited edition gin - Ginnermost.

JEDECO: KALEIDOSCOPE

17-25 Sept
JeDeCo is a collective of independent jewellers based at Oxo Tower Wharf. For LDF 2016 their members will design a contemporary piece of jewellery inspired by their countries of origin.

JOSEF KOPPMANN: OBJECTS OF LIGHT

17-25 Sept
Josef Koppmann launches a new body of work at his unit at Oxo Tower Wharf for LDF 2016. The work challenges the form of marble by exposing it to precious metals and stones to create new and unexpected lighting objects. The interplay of natural surfaces and textures combine to create one of a kind pieces.

LAUREN SHANLEY: CULTURAL CONVERSATIONS

17-23 Sept
Cultural Conversations is a new collection of clothing and interior pieces by Lauren Shanley that draws inspiration from the designer's love of collecting and travelling and celebrates women's lives from around the world.

MR JONES WATCHES

17 Sept onwards
Mr Jones Watches have collaborated with graphic design legend Clifford Richards for the invention of two unique limited edition time pieces based on the Animal Kingdom.

PHILIP WATTS DESIGN

Preview: Friday 23 Sept
Philip Watts Design, known for their beautiful door furniture, turn their hands to lighting cast in solid bronze for LDF 2016 premiering at Oxo Tower Wharf. Join Philip and the team for refreshments to celebrate this new body of work.

WAGUMI

Date/Time TBC
Wagumi is hosting a series of workshops celebrating traditional Japanese craft and techniques for modern living including; kokedama moss balls design and an introduction to the Japanese Tea Ceremony with Hagi pottery.

SUCK UK OPENING PARTY

21 Sept, 6pm onwards
Join SUCK UK to celebrate the launch of their new flagship shop at Oxo Tower Wharf. Events explore the brand's process of supporting emerging design from concept through to production. An ideas box will be available in-store to propose new products; prizes will be given for the most innovative.

GABRIEL'S WHARF

Two minutes walk along the Riverside Walkway is Gabriel's Wharf, home to a mix of independent design and fashion shops, cafes, bars and restaurants. This creative enclave is the perfect place to explore as part of London Design Festival and Bankside Design District. Most shops open 11am-6pm, Tuesday-Sunday (times may vary).

LONDON DESIGN FESTIVAL AT GABRIEL'S WHARF

24-25 Sept
For LDF 2016, its designer-makers explore ethical fashion, fair trade and sustainable design models through a series of workshops, exhibitions and events.

Meet designers from House of Eunice, Jianhui, Lagom and Southbank Printmakers to discuss their approach to ethical modes of practice and view the tools, facilities and processes behind their products. Workshops include; embroidery and stitching techniques; textile printing; necklace design and etching techniques for posters.
